Dear Colleagues,

On Wednesday, March 22, University Services will launch the first annual Rewards and Recognition event, and we are incredibly excited. From our workplace climate survey, Ambassador outreach and town hall meetings, we heard our colleagues request a way to celebrate one another and to recognize our collective efforts as an organization. We responded by developing a rewards and recognition committee, and members have worked diligently to create awards that reflect our guiding principles and values as well as a nomination process open to staff at all levels.

I hope you will take this opportunity say THANK YOU to your colleagues and receive appreciation for making University Services an organization where everyone can flourish. Our upcoming celebration also provides an excellent opportunity to acknowledge one another just before we enter into the busiest season for our collective units—the Reunions, Commencement and move-out period. I look forward to celebrating with you later this month.

Appreciatively,

Verita Murrill
Director of Talent & Organizational Development
Office of the VP & University Services Administration

Inaugural Employee Rewards and Recognition Event

The first University Services Rewards and Recognition Event will take place at Richardson Auditorium in Alexander Hall on Wednesday, March 22 at 1 pm. A reception will take place immediately afterwards in the Chancellor Green Rotunda. All staff are invited to attend.

Congratulations to Daniel Veith

University Services IT congratulates Daniel Veith, who on March 6 assumed his new position as a full time IT departmental computing support with the School of Engineering and the Survey Research Center in the Woodrow Wilson School. For the past seven months, Daniel played a critical role in University Services IT, having deployed/replaced over 45 computers, performed routine maintenance and support of USIT supported Dining and Housing servers, assisted with small development projects and provided desktop support.

Diversity and Inclusion Salon

The next D&I Salon will take place on Tuesday, March 14 from 2 pm to 3:30 pm and feature subject matter experts from the Office of the Dean of Religious Life. Leading the conversation will be Alison Boden, Dean of Religious Life and the Chapel; Vineet Chander, Coordinator for Hindu Life; Sohaib Sultan, Coordinator for Muslim Life; Theresa Thames, Associate Dean; and Matthew Weiner, Associate Dean. To attend this salon, register online. For additional information, email Brett Lawrence or Verita Murrill.
Campus Dining

Second Annual Tiger Chef Challenge
Friday, March 31, 2 pm–6 pm, Dillon Gym
Student teams from residential colleges and the Graduate College will compete in a cooking contest, presenting their best dishes to a panel of judges. The winning team brings the Tiger Chef trophy back to their college.

Grocery Tour with Campus Dining’s Wellness Dietitian
Friday, March 24, 10 am–noon
As part of National Nutrition Month, Melissa Mirota, Campus Wellness Dietitian, will bring participants to a local grocery store and provide guidance and assistance on how to shop for healthy items in a budget-friendly way. The tour will educate participants about foods that contain added sugar and dietary fiber.

Space is limited and is on a first come, first served basis. To sign-up or for more information, email Melissa or call 258.8907.

Cooking Demos During Intercession

Chef Brad Ortega (right) and Rick Piancone held the second session of the Princeton Teaching Kitchen (PTK) series for approximately 20 students in the Rockefeller-Mathey servery. PTK focuses on driving better health through better diets.

The Whitman Dining Team hosted students for an introduction to handmade Italian cuisine.

Print & Mail Services

Congratulations Tony Morreale

Tony Morreale, previously Associate Director, is now the Deputy Director for Print and Mail Services. In addition to the varied administrative and financial responsibilities he has within Print and Mail, his new role will extend his oversight to the department.

Good Luck Barbara Valenza

Barbara Valenza, Assistant Director of Graphic Services and the Digital Print Center, has accepted a new position as the Communications Manager for the Library. During her six-years at Print and Mail, Barbara has opened the Digital Print Center and re-imagined graphic services for the department. Her last day with University Services will be Tuesday, March 14.

Best of luck to Barbara. Her hard work and dedication will surely be missed by all!

Join the Princeton Bike Sharing Community
The campus community can join the Zagster bike-share program for a one-time membership fee of $20. Rides for members are free for the first two hours, and then $2 for each additional hour. Bike-sharing is an economical way to travel around campus and surrounding community, especially now that the weather is getting warmer.

How it works

1: Borrow
Become a member, then download and open the Zagster app. Tap "Start Ride" to receive a code to the lock box.

2: Unlock
Enter the code on the lock box to access the bike U-lock key. Close the lock box before you begin your ride.

3: Ride
Have fun and stay safe! Use the U-lock to keep the bike secure if you make stops along the way.

4: Return
When you're done, lock the bike back to the Princeton Zagster station and close the lockbox. Open the app and tap "End Ride."

Did You Know?

University Services Get Involved Website

The Get Involved Website is a University Services resource that allows staff to search for and post volunteer opportunities within our organization. The site was conceived by the Cross Unit Engagement Subcommittee (CUES) to promote and encourage staff interactions and awareness across all our units.

You can easily get to the Get Involved site by going to the University Services Diversity and Inclusion page. From there, you’ll see “Get Involved with University Services” in the upper right corner.

If you would like to post a volunteer opportunity to the site, email Lori Boulware or call 258.2212.
